Brinksway School is a brand-new independent specialist school for autistic young people between four and nineteen years of age.

Located in Stockport, the school offers a unique mix of education and support to pupils within a wide spectrum of needs and abilities. Personalised teaching and learning in an autism specific environment allows pupils' individual needs to be addressed completely and their capabilities fully realised.

With a fantastic staff-to-child ratio, well-designed spaces, and a real commitment to making school a happy place to be, everything we do is tailored to offering each child the best possible educational experience. We work closely with parents and professionals to create a nurturing, enriching environment for learning.

Welcome from the Headteacher, Carla Adams-McCoy

I'm delighted to extend a warm welcome to you to Brinksway School! As the Headteacher, I take great pride in leading our wonderful school community.

At Brinksway School, we passionately support autistic children and young people aged 4 to 19 who may have additional needs. We hold high aspirations for every student, tailoring our curriculum to nurture their individual needs. Our aim is to foster a positive environment where students not only excel academically but also build self-esteem, gain valuable skills, and develop a deep understanding of the world around them.

We understand the vital role that families play in a child's education journey. That's why we value and encourage a collaborative partnership with families to ensure a fulfilling and joyful experience for everyone involved.

As we continue to grow and evolve, we remain dedicated to the ongoing development of our school, always striving to offer the best possible learning opportunities for our students.

Clinical Offer

As well as delivering the best possible education, we also have a clinical team who provide care and therapy to benefit the children and young people in our school.

Our clinical team includes:

- Speech and Language Therapists
- Occupational Therapists
- Access to other types of therapy as required.

Careers

Choosing which direction to take after leaving school is a big decision.

We're here to support our students and make sure they know about all the options open to them. Our curriculum focusses on careers, and we provide our students with meaningful career-related opportunities and activities throughout their time with us.
